Dear Rosies, Rosebuds, Rivets, Partners, and Guests,

The Sun City Chapter of ARRA invites you to Phoenix for the annual American Rosie the Riveter Association National Convention/Reunion! This year Arizona will be celebrating the Centennial of its statehood. Please join us in the celebration.

If you have not been here before, you will find things are different in the desert. The sky is bigger. The stars are brighter. The sunsets will stop you in your tracks. Phoenix is America's sixth-largest city, and still has real cowboys, Native Americans, rugged mountains, and the kind of cactus most people see only in cartoons. Hope to see you in June!

Fran Ellis

Sun City Chapter President

About ARRA's "90+" Members

We now have almost 70 members in our ARRA 90+ group! Also, we would like to congratulate Margaret Cramer, Beatrice Carney, Caroline Holven, and Polly Nikolaisen on reaching the 100 mark in the last couple of years!

Some of these Rosies have asked us to publish the names of places where they worked, so they might be able to find other Rosies who worked at the same place. Of those who have contacted me, I have the following locations represented:

East Coast: Lockheed Aircraft, Eastern Aircraft, and two at Glen Martin Airplane Factory, all in Baltimore; New Departure Company in Meriden, Connecticut; Sperry Corp Norden Bombsights in Brooklyn, New York; Lockheed Plant in Marietta, Georgia; and Air Force Department in Miami, Florida.

West Coast: Navy shipyards in Pittsburgh, California; McDonald Douglas in California; a hospital in Richmond, California; St. John's Shipyards in Portland, Oregon; Todd Pacific Shipyards in Tacoma and Vancouver, Washington; Paine Field Air Base in Seattle, Washington; and three at Boeing in Seattle.

South: Ft. Devens Motor Pool and a large Victory Garden, both in Mississippi.

Central U. S.: Douglas Air Force Base in Oklahoma City, Oklahoma; Douglas Aircraft in Tulsa, Oklahoma; Fairbanks Morris in Wisconsin; Parker Appliance in Cleveland, Ohio; Goodyear Aircraft in Akron, Ohio; Chrysler and Willow Run Defense Plant in Detroit, Michigan.

Southwest: Yuma Air Force Base in Yuma, Arizona; and Consolidated Aircraft Factory in Ft. Worth, Texas.

We even have a 90+ Rosie who worked at Metro Vickers Aircraft Works in Manchester, England. So we can truly say that Rosies came from all across America and beyond. For further information, contact me at capeters12@austin.rr.com. - Rosebud Carol Peters, Maxwell, Texas

Hey, We're Seeing Double!

Would you believe it? There are at least five sets of Rosie twins in the ARRA organization, and two sets of them recently made big news.

During the War, twin sisters Wilma Rees, now living in Arizona, and Amelia Kizer of Nebraska both worked at Boeing Aircraft in Seattle, Washington, helping to make B-17 bombers. Wilma worked as a buckler on a riveting team, and spent a good deal of time inside the wing, putting the skin on. Amelia was a mechanic working on the airplane's radio while it was just a skeleton.

"We never did know what they looked like when they were finished," said Amelia. And it's a safe bet that they probably didn't ever expect to fly in one.

But on a Saturday in January, 2012, the 89-year-old twins got a most unusual birthday gift. Through the efforts of their children and the Arizona Wing of the Commemorative Air Force, one of the few B-17s that is still flyable was waiting to give them their orientation flight. Christened the Sentimental Journey, the aircraft had seen action in the Pacific during the War. The twin Rosies weren't sure whether they had actually helped build this particular plane or not, but the flight was a tremendous thrill for them and for the plane's flight crew.

One thing that made the flight especially meaningful to the twins was the memory of their brother, Elmer, who had been lost at sea when the B-17 in which he was a crew member crashed, with the loss of all ten people on board. "I believe he's up there watching us right now," said Amelia. "I think he'd be happy to know that we got to ride in a B-17."

Another set of Rosie twins that were recently in the news are "Mazie and Dazie," that is, Mazie Long and Dazie Akers, both of Fort Payne, Alabama. They traveled to Rome, Georgia to share war-time experiences with the Rome Chapter of the American Rosie the Riveter Association. In 1942, the two girls went to aeronautical school together in Tennessee, and after training they worked at an air base together, repairing bullet holes in airplanes, running slow carbon drills, and attending to other mechanical duties. They also worked with others to build an airplane from the ground up. "But it never flew in the war," they said.

With them on the program was Captain James McCubbin, a World War II pilot who was shot down in Germany and spent most of the rest of the war in German prison camps, until he was liberated by General George Patton's forces.

Other "twin Rosies" (that we know of) who are members of ARRA are:

Dorine Hamilton of Kansas and Elaine O'Quinn of Florida

Happy Sargol of Arizona and Rosemary Umenhofer of Illinois

Ruth Hutchens Horton and Ruby Jane Hutchens Taylor, both of Oklahoma

Who knows some other sets of twin Rosies? Send information about them to Fran Carter, email address fran.carter@juno.com, or snail mail 209 University Park Drive, Birmingham, AL 35209, to be used in future editions of the Mail Call.

Three Rosie Moms

Since December, three dear Rosie moms (that we know about), who were members of local chapters, have expired. There probably were others, also, that we don't know about, but in these cases their Rosebud daughters called to say how much their moms had appreciated the recognition they had gotten through their membership in ARRA, and especially how much they had enjoyed being a part of their local Chapters.

That was great to know. We “old Rosies” have to admit we are sort of proud of the opportunity we had of helping to win the War and save our country, and it makes us feel good to know that our children and grandchildren are sort of proud of us, too. Most of us would hardly have been recognized for it, though, if it hadn't been for ARRA. And for a whole lot of Rosie moms, the benefits of ARRA membership are limited because there's not a local Chapter for them to belong to, or if there is one, they have not joined it.

If that's the case with you (or with your mom or grandmom), how about doing something about it? First, find out if there is an ARRA Chapter in your area, where it meets, and who to contact, then become a part of it. If you're a Rosebud (or a Rivet) and your Rosie is still living, be thankful and see that she gets to meetings. If your Rosie has passed on, honor the legacy that she left to you by being active. And better still, if there's not an ARRA Chapter in your area, you take the initiative and start one.

You've heard the saying, “Time is of the essence.” Most Rosies won't be around much longer. Of course, we hope that the Rosebuds and Rivets and Partners and 21st Century Rosies will keep things going in ARRA forever; but now, while there are still some “unenlisted Rosies” hanging around, somebody in every community that doesn't have a Chapter should start one.

Need some help? Contact Mandy Cooley, ARRA's Vice-President for Expansion, at azcooley@cox.com or (480) 998-4156. She'll be glad to send you some material and suggestions. Catch the spirit: “We can STILL do it!”

A Message From Mabel

Due to slower sales and the rising cost of postage, we will be discontinuing some of the items on our products price sheet (see page 5). Those items are shown with a discounted price. If you are interested in any of these products, please send in your order promptly, as they will be sold “first-come-first-served.”

Also, buy your T-shirts, Rosie scarves, and Totes so you will have them to wear to the Convention in Phoenix! Get your Rosie Post Cards and Note Cards so you can mail “the folks back home” a note from Phoenix. We will not have a Rosie Shoppe at the Convention, except for book sales, so please order early and allow three weeks to a month for delivery via parcel post.

Buy a book for a family or friend and include a bookmark. Or even better, follow the example of Evelyn Lambert of Hooker, Oklahoma, and Alva Autry of DeSoto, Texas. Evelyn recently ordered three books to be sent to the Olive Warner Library in Hooker; and Alva ordered four books for the DeSoto City Library! You can donate one of our Rosie story books to your favorite public or school library with special pricing — any of the three story books for $12.00 each, or the Rosie cookbook for $14.00. We must ship the book directly to the library. We will add a book plate saying that it is a donation from you. Get permission from the librarian before you order, so the library will accept the delivery. See page 5 for titles, then send your check or money order with the name and address of the library to Mabel Myrick, P. O. Box 188, Kimberly, AL 35091.

A lot is being said about World War II these days, and I would like to encourage our members to get our books into school libraries.

Vice President, Membership and Products Director

We Still Need Your Story!

(or that of your Mom or Grandmom if she was a Rosie)

It's sad to say, but there are still a lot of Rosies who lived and worked and helped to preserve our country's freedom, whose stories have not been recorded. You (or they) filled a niche in history, and future generations need to know about it! Let us help you by publishing your story in our next book, which may be the final book of Rosie stories that ARRA produces. Even if you already have a story in one of our other books, we'd love to get a different story for this one. Remember, as an author, you'll get a discount on one copy of the book when it is published.

Note that the story must be typed, double-spaced between lines, and you must complete this form and send it in with your story. We look forward to hearing from you by May 1, 2012!

Update on Two Projects

A couple of issues ago, the Mail Call carried articles on two projects of interest to Rosies and veterans. One was the opportunity to be listed individually with the World War II Memorial in Washington, D. C., with a brief account of your (or your mom's or your grandmom's) work. The other related to a benefit that is available to veterans and their widows (which includes a lot of Rosies), who need home care. This is known as the "Aid and Attendance Benefit" and seems to be one of the V.A.'s best-kept secrets.

Since then, 52 members have contacted us for further information about being listed in the World War II Memorial, and 79 have asked for information about the Aid and Attendance Benefit! If you'd like more information about either of these projects, contact Fran Carter at (205) 822-4106 or j-fcarter@juno.com.

Need a Musical Program?

If you're interested in putting on a really special program (for the general public in your area, maybe) focusing on Rosie the Riveter, consider a group of professional musicians from the Baltimore area, headed by the former ARRA State Director for Maryland, Debi Wynn. They have performed at two national ARRA Conventions in the past (to standing ovations), and they're available to travel for a very reasonable fee. If you'd like further information, contact Debi Wynn at (410) 583-0270 or email her at elizwynn@aol.com.

A Holiday Extravaganza!

In December 2011, the "Baker's Dozen" Chapter of Phenix City, AL/Columbus, GA, held a Holiday Social at Fort Benning to honor area Rosies. Great entertainment was provided by Rosies, Rosebuds, veterans, and others. To see more about the event and a clip of Rosebud Carol Cane performing her professional one-woman Rosie show, go to www.youtube.com and search for "Fort Benning Honors Rosie the Riveter." Jonnie Clasen is Chapter President.
