

focused on the important task at hand. We all knew that a soldier's life depended on our job being done right.

When the end of the war was announced in 1945 I happened to be at home. People were running in the streets and car horns were honking. I knew that my job had to come to an end as well. One thing I can say is that I will always be proud of being a part of the women who helped win the war!